

Undergraduate

XEA Introduction to International Trade Theory and Policy/ XEA 309 International Economics

Course Description

The course aims at analysing the international economic system and the main problems and events, especially with regard to Kenya and other developing countries. Emphasis will lie on the theoretical framework that helps to explain the actual economic scene.