Problem? – Existing Barriers, and how COVID-19 is Magnifying the Impact of Barriers

Approach? - Measuring Gender-Responsiveness in FTAs using ITC’s Maturity Toolkit

Next Steps? - Preparing Trade Policies to Reboot Inclusive Economy
COVID-19 Magnifying the Impact of Barriers
The Problem

Key Barriers

- Access to education (STEM and digital learning)
- Access to markets, technology, finance and other productive resources
- Time poverty, domestic violence and culturally-prescribed stereotypes
- Business and employment restrictions; bans and prohibitions
- Unfair working conditions and employment discrimination
- Disproportionate tariff and non tariff barriers for trade in goods and services

For more details, see Bahri, Women at the frontline of COVID-19

COVID-19-Inflicted Challenges

1. Loss of jobs for 30% of women in service industries (proximity-demanding, low paid and temporary jobs)
2. 740 million women in informal economy, either exposed to contagion risk or face imminent loss of jobs
3. Women own close to 10 million of the world’s SMEs; SMEs scaling down or facing closures
4. Spiralling household responsibilities and domestic violence
5. Reduced access to education, owing to lack of digital affordability and know-how
6. Restricted access to health facilities, including maternity care and abortive services
Two Approaches: Bottom up or Top down

- Empowerment of women
- Use of international frameworks and policies

Changes at the national level

Empowerment of women
Why negotiating instruments work?

1. Diplomatic reasons
   - Ease of negotiating with certain countries (i.e., Canada) + The inclusion of gender provisions is a precondition to negotiate with others (i.e., EU)

2. Substantive reasons
   - The Business Case: Gender Equality benefits the economy

Gender and trade: A bi-directional relationship

Trade impacts the degree and the forms of gender inequalities

Gender inequalities affect trade strategies, trade policies, and trade outcomes
Gender Justice and Economic Growth

Increased gender equality

- Women have better access to markets
- Women have better education and health
- Mother’s greater control over decision-making in the household

Increased women’s labour force participation, productivity and earnings

- Income/Consumption expenditure
- Differential savings

Improved children’s well-being

- Better health and educational attainment & greater productivity as adults

Current poverty reduction and economic growth

How advancing women’s equality can add $12 trillion to global growth

If every country matched the progress toward gender parity of its fastest-improving neighbor, global GDP could increase by up to $12 trillion in 2025.

What impedes gender mainstreaming? The Hesitations and Impediments

1. Fears of Protectionism and cultural imperialism
2. Underrepresentation of women in policy-making roles
3. Lack of political will
4. Cost of compliance, and probability of compliance
5. Absence of expertise and paucity of gender disaggregated data
6. Lack of understanding and awareness

Limited

FTA at this level is either completely or close to being gender-blind or gender-neutral in nature as it fails to mainstream gender concerns.

Evolving

FTA at this level employs some best practices for mainstreaming gender concerns, but it has a significant scope for further improvement.

Advanced

FTA at this level achieves the highest level of maturity in the way it mainstreams gender concerns, and there is no or only a negligible scope for further improvement.

PREAMBLE
SEEK to facilitate women’s and men's equal access to and ability to benefit from the opportunities created by this Agreement and to support the conditions for women's full participation in domestic, regional, and international trade and investment;

CHAPTER 13: GOVERNMENT PROCUREMENT
Article 13.3: Exceptions
Subject to the requirement that the measure is not applied in a manner that would constitute a means of arbitrary or unjustifiable discrimination (…) nothing in this Chapter shall be construed to prevent a Party, including its procuring entities, from adopting or maintaining a measure:
A) necessary to protect public morals, order, or safety;
B) necessary to protect human, animal, or plant life or health;

CHAPTER 14: INVESTMENT
Article 14.17: Corporate Social Responsibility
The Parties reaffirm the importance of each Party encouraging enterprises operating within its territory or subject to its jurisdiction to voluntarily incorporate into their internal policies those internationally recognized standards, guidelines, and principles of corporate social responsibility that have been endorsed or are supported by that Party, which may include the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises. These standards, guidelines, and principles may address areas such as labor, environment, gender equality, human rights (…)
CHAPTER 23: LABOR

Article 23.9: Discrimination in the Workplace
The Parties recognize the goal of eliminating discrimination in employment and occupation, and support the goal of promoting equality of women in the workplace. Accordingly, each Party shall implement policies that it considers appropriate to protect workers against employment discrimination on the basis of sex (…)

CHAPTER 23: LABOR

Article 23.12: Cooperation
The Parties recognize the importance of cooperation as a mechanism for effective implementation of this Chapter, to enhance opportunities to improve labor standards, and to further advance common commitments regarding labor matters, including the principles and rights stated in the ILO Declaration on Rights at Work.

ANNEX I – MEXICO – 13

Investment and Cross-Border Trade in Services
Concessions for indigenous social use shall be granted to indigenous people and indigenous communities of Mexico, with the objective to promote, develop, and preserve their language, culture, knowledge, tradition, identity and internal rules that, under principles of gender equality, allow the integration of indigenous women in the accomplishment of the purposes for which the concession is granted.

Trade Agreements can Help: Best Practice Examples

The Solution

Canada-Israel & Canada-Chile: CSR, Access to STEM and ICT education, digital skills, Promote women entrepreneurship

EU-Central America: political dialogue, protect lives of women in conflict and violence, access to maternity and health services

European Economic Area: equal pay for equal work, eliminate employment discrimination

EU-Canada: Prohibit sex-based discrimination against foreign investors (binding)

EU-Lebanon (also w/ Jordan/Egypt/Morocco): family planning, mother and child protection programs

USMCA: Reservation for indigenous women (service), protection of women employees

CPTPP: Access to markets, technology and finance, workplace flexibility, abolish discriminatory legislation and customs

CAFTA-DR: Exemption to craft women-favoring government procurement schemes

COMESA: Participation in decisions, eliminate border regulations and discrimination, awareness programs to change negative stereotypes, eliminate laws hindering access to credit and productive capacity

AfCFTA: gender in preamble, financing commitments, export-capacity of women-owned SMEs

East African Community: gender balance in legislative assembly

EU-Lebanon: (also w/ Jordan/Egypt/Morocco): family planning, mother and child protection programs

Eurasian Economic Union: Mandatory health insurance for migrant pregnant women and mothers from employers; and for women involved in high risk jobs

EU-Canada: Prohibit sex-based discrimination against foreign investors (binding)

EU-Lebanon (also w/ Jordan/Egypt/Morocco): family planning, mother and child protection programs

Bahri, 2020
Coverage: integration of women into the region’s development process by enhancing women’s access to resources, female entrepreneurship and women’s representation in political and decision-making positions.

Scope: 101 gender-explicit words mentioned; with provisions on general objectives and principles, general undertakings, provisions establishing regional institutions, capacity building and cooperation based provisions, and provisions on women and development.

Format: A mix of binding and non-binding commitments, drafted with a combination of mandatory and non-mandatory verbs; in main text, annex, complementary instruments.

Coverage: women’s health and maternal concerns, such as health care, nutrition, childcare and women’s safety

Scope: 66 gender-explicit words mentioned; with right to regulate provisions, reservations

Format: Mostly binding commitments, in main text and annex; mostly drafted with mandatory verbs and “hard” grammatical constructions

European Union

Coverage: Gender equality, non-discrimination, education and skill development, health and safety, and maternal care

Scope: 160 gender-explicit words mentioned; with provisions on trade and sustainable development, agreement’s general objectives and principles, binding reservations, cooperation on social and cultural matters, cooperation on education and training, and reaffirmations

Format: A mix of binding and non-binding commitments, in main text and annex; added mainly in Association Agreements’ or ‘Integration Agreement’; drafted with mandatory and non-mandatory verbs

North America

Coverage: labour, women’s access to productive resources, market access and technology, skill development and increasing their participation in economic growth

Scope: 148 gender-explicit words mentioned; Cooperation-based provisions, reaffirmations to other international instruments, provisions relating to voluntary standards

Format: Non binding commitments, drafted with non-mandatory verbs and “soft” permissive grammatical constructions; Mostly added in main text and annexes

Coverage: labour concerns, market access, resource access, women's role in growth and development, childcare

Scope: 87 gender-explicit words mentioned; mostly reaffirmation- and cooperation-based provisions, with occasional mention in provisions on voluntary standards and "right to regulate" reservations

Format: Mostly non binding commitments; drafted with non-mandatory verbs and "soft" permissive grammatical constructions; in main text and annexes

What Next? Preparing FTAs to Reboot Inclusive Economy post-COVID-19

Policy Recommendations

1. Cooperate on Enhancing Women’s Access to Education
2. Cooperate on Enhancing Women’s Access to Health
3. Include Minimum Legal Standards
4. Engage Women in Policy-Making
5. Encourage Gender-Specific Corporate Social Responsibilities
6. Enforce Commitments with Dispute Settlement Mechanism and Remedies
7. Create Institutions, Procedures and Financing Channels to Ensure Implementation
8. Craft a Gender-Explicit Exception

Include Minimum Legal Standards
Engage Women in Policy-Making
Encourage Gender-Specific Corporate Social Responsibilities
Enforce Commitments with Dispute Settlement Mechanism and Remedies
Create Institutions, Procedures and Financing Channels to Ensure Implementation
Craft a Gender-Explicit Exception
Three big questions:

1. Many new FTAs (such as USMCA) contain highly enforceable labor commitments. If this can be negotiated, why countries are still reluctant to include enforceable gender-related commitments such as equal pay for equal work?

2. If we can have exceptions to protect public morals, or animal health or life, or even plant health or life in almost 100% of existing FTAs, why can’t we negotiate an exception to reduce gender inequality?

3. Even if gender provisions are not made enforceable, wouldn’t they remain a distant reality if parties do not craft procedures and institutions or mobilize funds to put these commitments to action?
Thank you
